

The Library offers users the option to place a hold on a book or on other library materials. Users can be placed on a waiting list for a book or other library materials which are on loan to another user. Once a book or other library materials are returned, the Library reserves them for 12 hours for the first user on the waiting list. After that period, the book is lent to the second user on the waitlist.

Users can make hold requests in-person at the circulation desk of the Library Branch, by presenting a valid Library ID and by identifying the material to be renewed
