
Description:

Dear Customer,

We are pleased to announce important enhancements on Scopus. These enhancements will be available in Scopus from Tuesday, October 17th.

In response to customer requests to increase the transparency of Scopus' content coverage, major improvements have been made to Source Browse by displaying more information about each source's coverage in Scopus (read more).

If you would like to know more, or tell us what you think, please contact your local helpdesk (see "contact" at: www.info.scopus.com [1]). We trust you and your users will find these changes valuable enhancements to the literature research process.

Many thanks,

The Scopus Team
